About How Not To Be Famous: A Conversation with Richard Kind

Richard Kind is an accomplished stage, screen and television actor who continues to redefine the term character actor. Richard appeared in the Academy Award Winning Best Picture, Argo for director Ben Affleck and starred as 'Bing Bong' in the hit Pixar Film, Inside Out. He played a memorable, heartbreaking role in Clint Eastwood's Hereafter. Richard was 'Uncle Arthur,' brother to Michael Stuhlbarg in the critically acclaimed A Serious Man written and directed by Joel and Ethan Coen. He worked a second time with the Coen brothers in Suburbicon, directed by George Clooney. Currently, Richard recurs in the fourth season of Only Murders in the Building for Hulu.

In addition, he has guest starred on many, many shows. Richard is a Drama Desk Award Winner and Tony Nominee for the Broadway Hit, "The Big Knife." On stage he has also starred in "Guys and Dolls" in London, the smash hit Broadway musical "The Producers," "The Tale of the Allergist's Wife," "Candide," and "Bounce," among others. Richard started his career in Chicago with the Practical Theatre Company, founded by Julia Louis-Dreyfus, Brad Hall and Gary Kroeger.

How Not To Be Famous: A Conversation with Richard Kind is presented by Delta Atlanta Symphony Hall LIVE and will take place at Symphony Hall on Saturday, July 19, 2025 at 8:00PM.
